About the Calgary IT Pro Community Association:

The Calgary IT Pro Community Association ["CIC"] is a registered not-for-profit society incorporated April 28, 2008 under the Alberta Societies Act.

Purpose

The purpose of the Calgary IT Professional Community Association ["CIC"] is to provide information technology professionals and consultants in southern Alberta with opportunities for professional development, social networking and sharing knowledge with peers in a non-competitive environment.

Vision

Our vision is to become the leading IT professional user group community in Canada

Mission

Our mission is to present quality technical programs, offer unique special-interest groups for technical/business practice areas, cultivate strategic partnerships with leading vendors and encourage active member participation through volunteer engagement and social interaction opportunities.

Values

Our values hinge on honesty, integrity and trust in everything we do. Our members strive to honour every commitment they make to the best of their ability and to meet or exceed expectations when delivering on those commitments.

We value balance in one's work, family and community – providing good service and expertise for fair compensation so that families are supported and nurtured and our communities are enriched through the work and volunteer efforts of our members.

Membership Information:

Membership in CIC is open to anyone interested in joining and contributing to the organization. Regular meetings are usually held on the 3rd Tuesday of each month. You are encouraged to attend and participate actively.

Membership dues for 2010 - $25 (Jan 01 – Dec 31).
